Augusta, Georgia: Asthma, allergies, headaches, and weariness are just a few of the health issues that can be brought on by the toxins released into the air by carpets and other common household products. A local cleaning business in Augusta, Revive & Restore Cleaning, is dedicated to enhancing indoor air quality by providing top-notch carpet cleaning services. Their products and methods have no environmental impact and are safe for both customers and employees.

According to the EPA, most Americans spend 90% of their time indoors, where pollutants can be up to 2-5 times higher than outdoors. This is especially true in carpeted homes, as carpets can act as a ?sink? for contaminants. Dust mites, pet dander, chemicals, and other allergens can all become trapped in carpets, where they are then free to circulate in the air. Improved indoor air quality can lead to better overall health for everyone at home.

Professional carpet cleaning companies, such as Revive & Restore Cleaning, can dramatically improve indoor air quality. Their family-operated business employs veterans in the cleaning industry with experience serving residential and commercial customers in Augusta and other parts of Georgia. Trained cleaners come to the property and pre-inspect the areas to develop a custom cleaning plan.

Unlike other carpet cleaning companies, Revive & Restore Cleaning does not use any harsh chemicals or detergents in its solutions. This means there is no risk of toxic fumes or residues being left behind, which can trigger health problems in sensitive individuals. Their solutions are effective and safe for the environment without damaging any carpet fibers or causing color fading.

Steering away from traditional carpet cleaning methods, the use of eco-friendly products is not the only ?green? aspect of Revive & Restore Cleaning. They also minimize water waste by using high-quality equipment that extracts most of the moisture from the carpets. This not only shields the carpets from oversaturation and potential water damage but also quickens the drying process so that consumers may enjoy clean, fresh-smelling carpets in just a few hours.

The benefits of improved indoor air quality are numerous, including a reduced risk of respiratory problems, allergies, and headaches. Every household should make an effort to improve its air quality, and one of the best ways to do so is by investing in professional carpet cleaning services from Revive & Restore Cleaning. With 100% satisfaction guaranteed, there's no reason not to try out their green carpet cleaning services.
