Lake Oswego, OR - March 13, 2023 -
Lake Oswego, Oregon based Tersigni Vision is recommending that patients ask a series of specific questions when looking for the best LASIK surgeon in Portland. Tersigni Vision is headed by Dr. Steven Tersigni, who is dedicated to ensuring that patients seeking eye care get the best treatments and results. To learn more about Tersigni Vision, go here: Best LASIK Surgeon Portland.

LASIK (laser-assisted-in-situ keratomileusis) is the most popular laser eye surgery, and it is the best choice for many individuals for a good reason. LASIK can treat common vision issues, such as nearsightedness (myopia), farsightedness (hyperopia) and even astigmatism. LASIK surgery uses a special type of laser to precisely change the shape of the dome-shaped clear tissue at the front of the eye (cornea) to improve vision.

Dr. Tersigni says ?A lot of patients in Portland are looking to get a LASIK treatment. It is FDA-approved and can give you 20/20 vision, so why not? However, you need to keep in mind that LASIK surgery is still a surgical procedure, and such a significant decision should not be made without care. When you are comparing LASIK providers, you need to make sure you ask the right questions and learn how suited they are to carry out the treatment. We wanted to give prospective patients all the information they would need in order to make the best choice for themselves.?

In a blog post on their website, Tersigni Vision shares the list of questions to ask any potential LASIK provider. The first question is the matter of who performs the surgery and whether they exclusively work in the office in question. This is important because, on occasion, LASIK treatments are provided by a surgeon who will fly in, perform the procedure and fly out again. If this is the case, it may make finding a suitable time difficult, especially if the patient is in need of immediate attention. There is also the fact that LASIK equipment can be different from one office to another, which may make it more difficult for a surgeon flying in to provide the treatment at their regular capacity.

It is also important to know the background of the surgeon who is performing the LASIK surgery. While each surgeon must adhere to certain standards, their level of expertise varies. This means that when choosing a doctor, their credentials and the extent of their education and training are always important to consider. The blog post also shares that it can be useful to find an ophthalmologist who provides more treatments than just LASIK. Clinics which just provide LASIK might try to shoehorn patients into getting a LASIK surgery even if their condition might be better treated by another surgery, which can be detrimental in the long term.
