

Dandenong Conveyancer Achieves 50+ Trustpilot Feedback Milestone

February 13, 2023

February 13, 2023 -
Southeastern VIC-based LEAD Conveyancing Dandenong, a conveyancing firm that offers a wide range of legal services in the suburb, was happy to share that they have garnered more than 50 reviews from previous clients in Trustpilot, a Denmark-based online customer review website. As of this writing, the firm received 53 reviews from the said website from people from different parts of Victoria.

The firm's staff were thrilled when they discovered they had received more than half a hundred reviews from satisfied customers. It is their first milestone at the beginning of the year, and they plan to achieve more in the coming months. LEAD Conveyancing Dandenong spokesperson said that some of the praises drive them to keep improving their quality of service.

Trustpilot is a renowned online customer review website that allows companies to gather opinions from previous clients. It is a website that helps companies determine their strengths and weaknesses. Many companies join more than one online customer review website to generate feedback faster. Aside from the Danish website, the fully registered conveyancing firm is also a longtime member of Google My Business (GMB), another customer review site.

Most of the reviews the firm received were beneficial for its reputation. Some commended their professionalism and excellent customer service, while others were happy with their laser-focused attention to detail-attitude. One of the previous clients who have sent feedback praised Kristy Fletcher, a firm's Senior Lawyer, and Solicitor by saying, "My partner and I recently moved from Sydney and purchased a house in Victoria. Kristy from LEAD was fantastic during the buying process, telling us about the nuances of the legislation of Victoria, looking at contracts (often at short notice), including advice on details such as the purchase of solar panels, our rights at auction, and advising us on the exchange process. Kristy and her colleagues executed the settlement process seamlessly. I would have no hesitation in using them again."

Trinh Thai, Legal Director and Founder of the firm, stated that the good news would inspire them to stay focused on every transaction they will take this year. She mentioned that commendations such as professionalism and courtesy gave them more drive to excel and improve their knowledge. She also said that being aware that they are well-received by their previous clients is a fact that they will remember every time they think of giving up on complex tasks, usually non-standard transactions.

LEAD Conveyancing Dandenong has many plans for 2023; one of them is to upgrade its online free conveyancing calculator. They plan to update it to reflect the up-to-date pricing of their legal services. The update is essential so that site visitors will not get confused when they decide to pursue hiring the firm. Their legal services are affordable and can be utilised for a fixed price unless the process becomes a non-standard transaction.
