COLUMBIA, MD - February 24, 2023 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Ridgeline Roofers Columbia is inviting homeowners to find out more about its slate roof installation services in Columbia, MD.

Slate roofs are known for their high aesthetic value and durability as compared to asphalt shingles. They also offer other benefits such as being naturally environmentally friendly and fire-resistant. Since they are inorganic, slate shingles also don't rot and decay like other roofing materials. So, slate roof installations have been known to last over 100 years and can even have expected lifespans of up to 200 years. Though slate roofing is one of the most expensive roofing options that one can go for, their longevity and the increase in curb appeal they bring make them enticing to homeowners who can afford them.

The spokesperson for Ridgeline Roofers Columbia talks about the challenges of installing slate roofs by saying, "Slate shingles are heavy as they are basically just solid bricks of stone material. This weight makes it a challenge to install them on conventional homes which have to be reinforced before you can begin. Our recommendation is to use thick lumber as the decking material to ensure the structure of the roof can bear their excess weight. During the installation, it is also necessary to use a felt underlayment to keep the exposed areas of the roof safe from the elements. To create a watertight roof, you need trained roofers who have experience working with the material to lay down seamless overlapping courses secured with galvanized copper nails. If all of this seems complicated compared to just nailing down asphalt shingles, that is because it most definitely is. Installing slate roof shingles is one of the hardest challenges even for professional roofers. Therefore, you should always look for the best people in the industry, such as the talented team that we have assembled here at Ridgeline Roofers Columbia, to handle your home's slate roof installation.?

Ridgeline Roofers Columbia has years of experience working with all kinds of roofing materials including metal, tile, asphalt shingle, flat roofs, rubber roofs, and single-ply membranes. No roofing challenge is too difficult for the company which has received tremendous praise for the roofing services it provides to residential and commercial property owners in the greater Howard County area. Case in point, the company has a perfect 5.0 overall rating on its Google Business Profile from several reviewers who acknowledge the company's responsive and friendly customer service and affordable high-quality roofing services.

One Google reviewer writes, "A significant roof leak appeared in my Kendall Ridge home after a severe storm several months ago. I contacted Ridgeline Roofers Columbia, and they came out to inspect the roof. Turned out it was a flashing issue and a few shingles needed to be replaced. They were able to complete the work that day, which prevented any further leaks. Overall, I'm very pleased with their services and will not hesitate to suggest them to any person in Columbia MD seeking roof repairs.?"

The expert roofers at Ridgeline Roofers Columbia use the latest roofing equipment and installation techniques to finish every job within the promised deadline and the customer's budget. The company's material-dependent workmanship warranties also ensure that homeowners don't have to worry about failing roofing materials due to manufacturer defects because the team will be right there to offer repairs under the period of the warranty.

Homeowners worried about their property's longevity can rely on Ridgeline Roofers' 30-point roof inspections to identify potential areas of concern and get a general overview of the challenges that their roof faces. The company recommends annual rooftop and attic inspections as a part of preventative maintenance to make sure the roof is always in top condition. When it comes time to perform the repairs, the company can also help homeowners get all the documentation they need to get the costs covered through their insurance.
