Atlanta, Georgia - February 17, 2023 -

On Your Mark Movers, a moving and storage service provider in Atlanta, GA, wants to encourage everyone to take into account the pros and cons of living in the city of Atlanta before deciding whether to move there or not. Atlanta is a great city with consistent economic growth and a long history. This city is a very active place with many things to do and to look out for. However, there are also a number of things to be aware of and to look out for.

First of all, Atlanta has a lot of historical significance, including the being home to Coca-Cola and being the birthplace of Dr. Marting Luther King Jr. It was also burnt to the ground during the Civil War by General Sherman. Second, one will never be bored in Atlanta as it is basically a hub for entertainment. There are a lot of places to go to, such as the Atlanta Zoo and the Fox Theatre. And even those who are on a tight budget can find something to go to, such as the Centennial Olympic Park and the free museums. The third advantage is that the cost of living in Atlanta is relatively more affordable compared to the other key cities. And the metropolitan area is quite close, which means driving can be a viable way to go to work and going around. And fourth, living in Atlanta will be easy because of the friendly people. Fifth, Atlanta has a lot of diversity, which means it is really a place where new people will find it easy to adjust, plus one can get exposed to a lot of cultures. Other pros for Atlanta are the presence of many places to go to for adventure, many small businesses have been successful in Atlanta, and sports fans will not be disappointed with some kind of game always going on.

On the other hand, there are some cons to living in Atlanta, such as: the relatively high criminal rate in Atlanta although it has been on the decline in the last few years; the huge amount of pollen in the air; its very busy Hartsfield-Jackson International Airport with its long TSA lines; the presence of racism; the high humidity and heat during summer; bad traffic; an unreliable and outdated bus and train system; and the fact that walking around city can be difficult because of its poorly maintained sidewalks and insufficient security and lights.
