March 31, 2015

March 31, 2015 -
RCSuppliesOnline.com has announced a new range of reclaimed wood table tops and other restaurant furniture.

These latest additions add to the company's already expansive selection of reclaimed wood table tops, which is the largest available online.

"Reclaimed wood is a fantastic material," explains Doug Stoutenburg, founder of RC Supplies Online. "It offers a unique and exquisite look to each table top that we create. Additionally, it is a green material and there are many environmental benefits associated with using this. Our customers also love that each table top has a piece of history associated with it, which shines through in the character and look of the piece. Naturally, reclaimed wood is also incredibly strong with unsurpassed durability."

Besides reclaimed wood table tops, Restaurant and Cafe Supplies Online also offers a full range of quality restaurant materials. This includes new wood table tops as well as laminated table tops. Furthermore, they have bases made from various materials, entire tables constructed of reclaimed wood, metal and wood chairs and reclaimed wood shelves. They are known for creating items that look unique and beautiful.

"We tried to create a restaurant with a homely, rustic feel," says Tim Davis, one of RC Supplies Online's customers. "Thanks to the reclaimed wood table tops, full tables and shelving, this is exactly what we have been able to achieve. Our restaurant has a unique look now, and customers comment on how much they appreciate it. Each piece of furniture is different from the next, and we can be proud of the fact that we help with sustainability as well."

RCSuppliesOnline.com also proudly offers American-made products through their American Maad (Materials Assembly and Design) line. The company believes that supporting local, U.S.-based businesses and workers is vital to the success of the nation's economy.

All of the materials used in RC Supplies' reclaimed wood products come from old American buildings. The wood from these buildings are used to create brand new products in Los Angeles, California.

Their reclaimed wood table tops range alone is impressive. They have four different designs available, -- straight plank, Herringbone, patchwork and round table tops with a metal edge strapping. Within these four categories, they offer a variety of different sizes, and a choice of finishes. This allows customers to create something that is not just unique, but that has been specified to their individual needs.

The fact that these products are also completely environmentally sound, and that they are American reclaimed and American made is an added bonus. RC Supplies Online prides itself on using American materials, building and hiring locally and selling globally.
