December 01, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Kansas City, MO - ProDental's customers are expressing much appreciation for the product teeth whitening trays. The affordability, effectiveness, and durability of the product are some of the main things liked by the customers.

The product description for the teeth whitening trays on Amazon speak volumes to the number of satisfied customers. They like that it is manufactured in the USA. Additionally they are grateful that it is made from a sturdy thermoplastic material. This durable material can keep the mouth guard functioning for the user's purposes for one year or longer.

The material it is made from also makes it suitable for other purposes than to whiten teeth. The mouth guard is useful to act as a guard at night against teeth grinding. It can also function to operate as a sports mouth guard. That means it can assist with sports such as boxing, hockey and football.

One verified purchaser of the product commented, "I am very pleased with my purchase. The mouth guard fits perfectly and feels as though it was professionally made for me. I ground through my very first mouth guard from my dentist several years back within six months and when I went back to get another the dentist had to fit me again as he had destroyed my original. All of this was not cheap so I decided to purchase something more reasonable on my own which were not the most comfortable. I'm glad I finally came upon your product. It is easy to fit, lean, remains its shape, and is comfortable to wear. It is by far the best product out there without having to go to the dentist.?

The customers have assigned good reviews to the teeth whitening trays with a rating of 4.5 out of 5 as of November 2015. The ProDental product offers other benefits that keep customers satisfied. The mouth guards are also BPA-Free, designed by dentists and built to be custom molded with ability to fit any size and shape teeth and mouth.

The teeth whitening trays are offered exclusively on the number one shopping marketplace, Amazon. The customer can buy 5 of any of the Amazon vendor MKC Products and receive a 20% off their total order. This discount is afforded customers who enter the code UBN4Q8S4 at checkout on Amazon.

The company also affords customers a special offer with their "Better Than Money Back Guarantee" with each purchase.
