At Align Health Collective - Physio kew, the team of physiotherapists is trained to treat a wide range of pathologies, including back pain, knee pain, shoulder pain, ankle pain, and foot pain. The physiotherapists use a variety of modalities and assessment tools to diagnose and treat patients in the shortest time possible. ?We believe in providing excellence in diagnosis and treatment,? says Siandri. ?We take the time to listen to our patients and understand their history so that we can assess and diagnose their issues quickly and accurately. Our goal is to provide each and every patient with an individualised recovery plan that will get them moving and back to being active with better strength and function.?
