A-Power Energy Generation Systems Ltd, a business in Woolmere Green, United Kingdom, has announced that they have launched a brand new website. The site has been completely redesigned and now includes new graphics. Furthermore, it is now also fully mobile responsive to ensure that it can be accessed in mobile devices, such as smartphones and tablets.

"We love our new website and can't thank our design team enough for the fantastic work that they have done," says Benjamin Hall from A-Power Energy Generation Systems Ltd. "Everything we wanted and more has been included and we believe it to be so much easier for our customers not just to find us through the search engines, but to find what they need on our website as well."

The new website clearly explains the business A-Power Energy Generation Systems Ltd is involved in, which is the provision of distributed power generation systems to China. They pride themselves on being the largest company of their kind, and on their dedication and commitment to energy efficient, green solutions. They also highlight the fact that they are a global business, with offices in both the United Kingdom and China, and with business partnerships all over the world, including Germany.

"In 2008, we entered the wind energy market and have built China's largest wind turbine manufacturing facility, located in Shenyang, with technologies licensed from German Fuhrlander AG and Denmark-based Norwin," adds Benjamin Hall. "In March 2009, We entered into an agreement to establish a Joint Venture partnership with GE Drivetrain Technologies to produce wind turbine gearboxes in Shenyang."

The new website, which can be accessed at <http://www.apowerenergy.com/>, provides extensive information on the company, its board of directors, management structure, code of conduct and history. It also discusses the variety of products that the company creates and how they are used. Finally, there is a very strong focus on the renewable energy market. China is a global leader in renewable energy and the company is proud to be at the forefront of helping them to achieve that. The power industry must make a public commitment to green technology, something that A-Power Energy Generation Systems Ltd is clearly assisting with.
