Residents are finding that heavy rainfall and high winds have taken their toll on many of their local trees. In some cases, entire stands of mature trees have been wiped out in a single storm. The situation is dire, but local officials are encouraging homeowners to act quickly and reduce potential additional damage to their property.

By engaging an experienced arborist, they can take advantage of emergency tree removal services to clear away damaged trees and mitigate future destruction. Professional arborists are specially trained to safely remove hazardous trees without causing further damage to the surrounding area.
