RDE Brands, a business in WI, has announced the launch of their French press that can be used for producing both coffee and tea. Designed to make the most delicious cups of coffee - and even tea - the press is already flying off the shelves. Furthermore, it is already receiving numerous positive reviews.

"We are passionate about all things coffee," says David from RDE Brands. "Our French press reflects that, not in the least because we offer it with a lifetime guarantee. That is how sure we are that people will not only love the coffee, or tea, they make in this press, but that they will love it for life as well."

The French press comes with a 100% solid stainless steel base. This means it will never rust and that it can be used for a variety of other applications as well, including extracting essential oils or rinsing quinoa. Most importantly, it has superior glass quality so that it will not break under the strain of hot water. The stainless steel plunger is a single device without loose parts, making it safe around children and easy to clean as well. The filter system, which is triple thick, can easily be cleaned. The device also comes with an extra filter, as well as an eBook on how to brew the perfect cup of coffee or tea.

Since its original release, the French press has had numerous positive reviews. "I love coffee and have always heard good things about what wonderful coffee a French Press produces," says one happy customer. "I had never purchased a French press and to be honest was a little apprehensive to try that method of brewing. I was excited when I got the opportunity to order the Pyora French Press. It has exceeded my expectations. The process of brewing is simple and it does indeed produce excellent coffee."

The lid comes with BPA and BPS free plastic. It is designed to brew the perfect drink, without any spillages or risk of scalding. The free eBook that is included is also filled with fascinating information on how to get the most out of the French press.
