February 22, 2023 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Long Beach, CA ? Tree Service Experts Long Beach has launched an ambitious new initiative to increase canopy cover and promote tree diversity in urban areas across the United States. The company's mission is to provide the expertise and services needed to make cities greener, healthier, and more livable for everyone.

Tree Service Experts Long Beach's new initiative addresses the increasing problem of declining tree cover in urban areas. It seeks to restore and increase canopy cover for aesthetic and environmental purposes, public health, air quality, stormwater reduction, and other ecological services.

The company plans to use a variety of approaches to achieve its goals, such as planting trees in strategic locations, providing technical expertise and support to municipalities on canopy policies and management plans, educating homeowners on proper tree care practices, and engaging local businesses in green initiatives. In addition, Tree Service Experts Long Beach will host workshops and community events that bring together experts in urban forestry with city officials, community members, and local business owners. Through these efforts, the company hopes to create vibrant green spaces that bring people together while improving the environment for everyone.

Whidden Carmen, CEO of Tree Service Experts Long Beach, is leading the charge. He said, "It's time to take our commitment to the environment seriously and ensure we do all we can to promote sustainable tree growth and health in urban areas. We are dedicated to making our cities greener, healthier places to live by providing expert and comprehensive tree services."

Tree Service Experts Long Beach is working with local arborists, government agencies, property owners, and developers to create a comprehensive plan to improve canopy cover in urban areas. They will perform various services, including tree pruning, disease control, planting of native species, removal of dead or hazardous trees, and providing long-term maintenance plans.

The company aims to increase canopy cover in urban areas by 25% by 2025. This would improve air quality and cooler temperatures, reduce noise pollution and increase wildlife habitat. It would also provide additional benefits, such as decreased stormwater runoff, increased property values, improved mental health, and increased physical activity since people tend to spend more time outdoors when there are more trees around them.

In addition to improving canopy cover, Tree Service Experts Long Beach is committed to increasing tree diversity in urban areas. Planting a wide range of species helps protect against diseases that can wipe out entire populations of one type of tree. In addition, this can reduce the possibility of losing critical ecological benefits associated with certain kinds of trees.

Tree Service Experts Long Beach is dedicated to making a lasting impact on the environment, helping create healthier and more livable cities for generations to come. They aim to make cities greener and healthier for everyone who lives there and visits.
