As David says on Trustpilot, ?From the initial conversation when discussing a quote, to the packers, the service and communication has been fantastic. I've always been fully informed, the staff are helpful and friendly and it has taken a significant edge off what is clearly a stressful time. Everything was packed with care and well documented, but also very efficient as clearly the people doing the job were experienced and knew the best way of doing it. Any questions I've had were answered and options were always clearly laid out. And on top of all of this, it was done for a very good price compared to other quotes I had. Would definitely recommend."
