"When we guarantee your satisfaction, we really mean it," the company says. "We go to great lengths to ensure high quality with every step of your project. We provide a free, detailed estimate that outlines all the items to be repaired and painted. This way, you can pick and choose exactly what you want to be done. Not all painting companies can also handle drywall or plaster damage. Patch and Paint Pros is a professional drywall and painting company. Our experienced contractors can handle all sorts of interior repairs in addition to painting. Once the project is approved, our painters get to work ordering and picking up the paint. Patch and Paint Pros prefers using high-quality paint from Sherwin-Williams and Benjamin Moore, but we can also use Behr, PPG or any other paint company you prefer. Just let us know ahead of time!"

As a top-rated interior house painter in Conshohocken, Patch And Paint Pros can repair nail pops, patch plaster and fix drywall cracks among other things quickly and easily making them look almost new. The company's interior painters and drywall specialists take great pride in their work and they believe that a project is never truly complete until the client is satisfied. This is why they work tirelessly to produce excellent results which lead their clients to leave glowing reviews.

"As a result of Ida, we had water damage from our skylight to the baseboards," says Bob Dugan in a review of the interior painting company. "We chose Patch and Paint Pros after reading their reviews. Jesus showed up promptly this morning at the scheduled time. He proceeded to evaluate the task at hand and went to work. Jesus suggested we may prefer our upstairs hallway also painted, we agreed and glad we did. Both Jesus and his associate were fast, efficient, friendly and polite. They exceeded our expectations. I would highly recommend Patch and Paint Pros to family, friends and anyone else looking for quality work! Thank you very much.?

The company is similarly dedicated to producing excellent results when it comes to their exterior painting services. While they specialize in interior work, they have plenty of experience with exterior painting, having worked on numerous properties over the years. They are also a top rate painting company when it comes to exterior painting in Conshohocken. They have a crew of 15 exterior painters with years of experience, backed by a team of friendly office support workers who are always happy to assist clients with whatever they may need.

The company's exterior painting jobs have also yielded excellent reviews, T. Murray's review states, "We used Patch and Paint Pro to paint 3 old external wooden doors, a vent and a metal balcony. Our house is 98 years old, and I believe that those doors, as well as the balcony, were the original ones. They had been painted over many times, and they really looked like they needed a good clean up before a new coat of paint. We wanted professional painters who knew how to preserve the character of the doors, but with the new shine of fresh paint. John, from P&PP, did an excellent job. The metal balcony was seriously rusted and was a real eyesore. It now looks almost new and beautifully blends with the rest of the house. My husband and I are very happy with the results, and we will consider P&PP again for future work."
