March 01, 2023

March 01, 2023 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Denver, CO based Harmony Painting is pleased to announce the reopening of their Castle Rock location. The company has provided Castle Rock homeowners with excellent painting services for years, using their expertise to tackle any project regardless of scope or complexity. They offer interior and exterior painting for both residential and commercial clients. Using only high quality paints from the most trusted brands, Harmony Painting guarantees that every one of their jobs will last for years to come. Thanks to their recent grand reopening, Castle Rock home and business owners can once again rely on Harmony Painting for all their painting needs.

“What’s the secret to our success? Referrals,” the company says. “Every home we paint is with the consideration of earning the business of your friends and family. What’s the secret to our longevity? Prep-Work. In fact, if a company does not emphasize prep-work as a serious component to a paint job, the durability and longevity of the work will suffer. We understand that you do not want to paint your home every 5 years, so it is our promise that our quality and longevity are unsurpassed.”

They continue, “We happily serve Denver and the surrounding communities, including Highlands Ranch, Castle Rock, Littleton, Englewood and the DTC. We would love to earn your business and show you why we are the best Denver painters. Call us today to set up a free estimate!”

Harmony Painting understands that there are a number of unique challenges that may arise when it comes to completing a high quality painting project, and they have developed a unique strategy that is guaranteed to make painting as stress-free as possible. The first step of the process is a free onsite painting consultation, during which they assess and communicate the requirements of the property in question. They then provide a thorough estimate of how much the job is likely to cost, detailing its scope, demands and cost. Once the client agrees upon a price, the Castle Rock painting company prepares the area by putting down cloth and masking off areas that will not be painted in order to ensure that nothing stops the job being done on time and according to schedule. Once all the surfaces in the area are prepared, they begin painting, making sure to follow all the steps outlined in the contract. Upon completion of the job, Harmony Painting cleans up and then invites the client to walk through the area. This examination serves to ensure that the client is happy before they make the final payment.

Home and business owners in Castle Rock will be happy to hear that Harmony Painting will be continuing to build its excellent reputation in their town. The company holds a near perfect rating online, showing that the company's strong commitment to excellence has yielded positive results since they first began operating.

Carlos and his team did a phenomenal job on several interior and exterior projects that required particular attention to detail, says a review from Arvin S. His team arrived on-time, worked collaboratively and diligently to complete the job ahead of time, and the finished project was exceptional. Moreover, his team prepped the area with detail (taping with plastic, paper on all the floors and stairs), ensuring the space was protected while spraying. We hired them initially for an exterior staining job, and their work was so exceptional we immediately hired them back for two interior projects.

An excerpt from another review by Gina F. says, We were very happy with the final job of sanding down and staining/painting our garage doors. Carlos was our project manager, and he was great! He was patient and helpful when it came to color selection, and it was obvious he had a lot of experience doing this type of work. The crew was very fast, thorough and cleaned up. It was great working with Carlos, and I have recommended them to friends.
