Low T 99, a business in Bellevue, WA, that offers testosterone replacement therapy, has revealed that they have launched a brand new YouTube channel. This particular video channel is designed to provide information and education to men regarding the benefits and uses of testosterone therapy.

"Testosterone therapy is becoming increasingly popular," says Bo Lebastchi from Low T 99. "However, there is a great lack of understanding on what it is and who it is for. In addition, people often don't know the difference between testosterone therapy such as the one that we offer, and testosterone supplements that can be purchased online with great ease. Our new YouTube channel clearly explains the ins and outs of testosterone therapy and we really encourage everyone to take a look at it."

The YouTube video also contains a number of instructional videos. These are designed to help people truly get the most out of their testosterone therapy. Various videos are currently included, which discuss things such as how to draw the product up and inject it, how to mix and inject HCG, what's in the box, and how to get the most out of the treatment. The testosterone therapy instructional videos are truly a must watch for anyone who needs to make use of the treatment.

The company offers two main medical services. First of all, they offer low testosterone therapy for men and, secondly, treatment for erectile dysfunction and impotency. The treatment has been incredibly well received by their many patients. "Thank you Low T 99," says one anonymous patient. "I know that biology sometimes simply doesn't work in our favor and that it is nothing to be embarrassed about, but the reality is that having low testosterone affects your self-esteem and self-confidence and is incredibly embarrassing, even if it shouldn't be. The treatment they have offered me has literally given me my life back and I honestly cannot thank them enough."

Low T 99 has also released a testosterone replacement therapy map. This map shows the various locations where people can go to for a consultation in order to start their treatment. Details about the map can be seen here.
