

Bare Medical Spa + Laser Center Announces New Technology with Morpheus8

March 03, 2023

Burlington, Vermont - March 03, 2023 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Burlington, VT ? Bare Medical Spa + Laser Center has announced the addition of a new radiofrequency (RF) microneedling device, the Morpheus8, to their practice. To showcase this new service, the practice is hosting an event on March 29 that will also include discounted pricing and free skin consultations along with demonstrations to celebrate what the device is capable of. By bringing on the Morpheus8 to their practice, Bare Medical Spa continues to position itself as Burlington?s long-standing and technologically advanced medical spa while providing desirable services.

?All of us at Bare are very excited to improve our clients? skin with our Morpheus8 treatments,? said Jamie Spano, founder and owner of Bare Medical Spa + Laser Center. ?It?s always been a goal of ours to provide world-class care to all our clients, and the Morpheus8 is revolutionary in how it revitalizes and firms the skin. We already offer microneedling services, but the way radiofrequency energy works to deeply penetrate the skin is incredible. With the Morpheus8, we can help so many people fall in love with their skin again!?

Microneedling refers to a type of skin procedure where tiny needles are used to repeatedly puncture the skin. A form of collagen induction therapy, the microinjuries trigger the body?s natural healing response, boosting the regeneration of collagen and elastin to create a firmer and more youthful look. Collagen and elastin are proteins naturally produced by the body, but their production diminishes with the aging process, and is heavily dependent on environmental factors like nutrition, sun damage, smoking, and pollution.

Radiofrequency energy is paired with microneedling in the next generation of skincare device systems, the most famous of which being Morpheus8. As the needles create microlesions in the skin, a burst of radiofrequency energy is emitted, further stimulating the production of collagen and elastin. As a result, skin irregularities like wrinkles, pigmentation, and fine lines are treated with power and precision. And because the Morpheus8 utilizes two modalities to treat the skin, it can also be used to burn fat in certain areas due to the deep penetration of RF energy into the tissues.

“One of the many great things about Morpheus8 is that it can treat so many different concerns,” said Spano. “From acne scarring and stretch marks to deep creases and sagging jowls, which are all things clients have mentioned as concerns. At Bare, we really pride ourselves on providing a royal treatment for all our patients, so bringing on something that everyone can benefit from is really important to us. When you feel comfortable in your skin, you feel so much better about yourself. I know our clients will appreciate the discounted pricing, as much as they’ll love the beautiful results the device creates!”

The practice will be holding an event on March 29 to announce and celebrate the new Morpheus8 technology. During the event, visitors will be offered a percentage off the normal package pricing when they book that evening only. Guests will have the option to put money down that night and pay the remainder at their appointment, receiving up to 20% off the typical package price of Morpheus8. The event will also feature raffles, prizes, refreshments, and free consultations for everyone in attendance.

The atmosphere at the medical spa reflected the general anticipation to reveal the device and begin treating clients. Bare Medical Spa is open and taking appointments for new and existing patients.
