They take on any roofing job regardless of how small or large, using only the highest-quality roofing materials from the most trusted manufacturers in the industry.

Mighty Dog Roofing backs up its fully licensed and insured roofing services with state-of-the-art technology that makes roof inspection and ongoing maintenance completely seamless and hassle-free. It uses drones to take aerial photographs to pinpoint the damage to a property's roof. The evidence of roof damage can be saved securely in the customer's vault and can even be used for filing insurance claims with the property owner's coverage provider.

The incorporation of the latest forward-looking technology doesn't stop there. The Garner roofing contractor can also provide customers with a first-hand look at how their renovations or repairs will look after completion. Using the innovative Curb Appeal Visualizer software, Mighty Dog Roofing of South Raleigh allows customers to pick out color palettes, swap roofing materials, and visualize changes directly on a digital reconstruction of their homes. The color and product information can be added to the vault for future reference.

Finally, Mighty Dog Roofing's Customer Vault can make long-term home and property maintenance a breeze. Annually updated drone photos and videos, warranty information, repair records, manufacturer information, insurance information, reports for the realtor or insurance agent, and more can be documented and tracked through the home's lifespan. It can be set up to give customers annual maintenance reminders and give realtors vital information during the eventual sale of the home.

"There is so much that we do that other local roofing companies just can't match," says Gary Lewis, the owner, and spokesperson for Mighty Dog Roofing South Raleigh. "Our workmanship warranties are the best in the industry.
