March 17, 2023

Las Vegas, Nevada - March 17, 2023 -
87 Movers, a family-owned mover based out of Nevada, is offering their expertise and services to anyone who needs a reliable residential moving company in Las Vegas. The mover has been active in the Las Vegas valley since 2018 and employs a carefully trained team with years of experience in the industry.

Today, customers quickly discover that the team has mastered techniques for loading items on trucks safely and efficiently, meaning there is less time wasted simply on packing each customer?s belongings ? and less money spent on moving overall. 87 Movers offers full service moves throughout the state and has successfully completed numerous long distance moves across the country.

?The process of moving is never easy,? says 87 Movers. ?The stress of packing, the time it takes to find a new home and unpack everything and so on can be overwhelming. It?s a big decision to relocate your family, and with all the responsibilities that come with moving, you want to make sure it goes as smoothly as possible. In addition, you want to make sure you are hiring someone that is professional, honest and reliable. When you move with 87 Movers Las Vegas, we take care of all this for you! Our trained professionals will pack up your furniture and belongings carefully and efficiently so they arrive at your new house ready to go.

We also provide free estimates on how much your move will cost before we start!?

Moving companies generally charge either an hourly rate or a flat fee (which is based on how long they think it will take to move every item in the customer?s home). Most customers prefer hourly rates, however, and this is why 87 Movers offers hourly rates which remove the need for guesswork regarding how much a move is likely to cost. 87 Movers? moving services are among the best in the city, and many attribute this to the degree of control each customer has over their budget.

The moving company?s dedication to excellence means that their movers will arrive at each home with everything they need to do their job. A good moving company strives to make the moving process as easy and stress-free as possible for their customers, and 87 Movers is no exception. They take all the logistics and planning of relocation and handle every step of the process, leaving customers to simply enjoy the prospect of starting over in a new place. The company has received a number of excellent reviews online from some of their Las Vegas customers. ?Tony and Caleb worked professionally together to sort and load our storage from our ABF Freight/Upack trailer,? says C. McKenna in a review of the company. ?My husband worked with them, as he had many odd items, and he had packed it like a sardine can! Their youthful strength was much appreciated, and they deftly maneuvered our storage shelves into the unit. Tony liked my daughter?s idea to use colored duct tape to mark where boxes go, and they respected this and our wishes to keep the stuff we?d need first, upon renting, to one side of the storage room. Much appreciated. We will likely hire them again for our move when we find a home.?

Another review from C. Blount says, ?My wife and I had a great experience. It was very much in contrast to the company that packed us. The two gentlemen, Tony and Caleb, were prompt, friendly, courteous, communicative and hard working. It was obvious that they were making an effort to care for our household goods. The good vibes even extended to the office people. Kathy was friendly, helpful and fair. We felt like valued customers from the very first contact to the job completion. If we have to move again, we?ll be reaching out to this company again.?
