Dr. Michael Collins of Bespoke Podiatry, a New York, NY based podiatrist, is pleased to announce the addition of a new wart removal system to the list of treatments available at his practice. The new Saorsa wart removal system provides fast, painless wart removal and reduces the likelihood of the warts returning.

Plantar warts are a common skin condition that can cause pain and discomfort on the bottom of the feet. Millions of people suffer from the condition, which is caused by a highly contagious virus called the human papillomavirus, more commonly known as HPV. The virus is spread from person to person through direct contact or shared surfaces, such as pools, gyms and locker rooms. There are a number of treatments available for the condition, and Dr. Collins' new wart removal system is one of the most effective and non-invasive methods of wart removal on the market.

Dr. Collins uses Swift Microwave Therapy, an FDA-cleared, minimally invasive, in-office procedure that is known to be highly effective when it comes to treating warts. During the procedure, a special device delivers microwave energy directly to the wart, heating the tissue and destroying the virus, which then causes the wart to break down and the skin is left to heal naturally. The treatment is fast, safe and effective which is why it is rapidly gaining popularity among those looking to eliminate warts quickly and easily.

The treatment protocol involves 3 - 4 treatments, four weeks apart. Each treatment lasts between 5 and 10 minutes, and additional no home care is required between treatments. Patients can also resume daily activities immediately afterwards.

A study published in the Journal of Dermatologic Surgery found that Swift Microwave Therapy was effective in 95% of patients and resulted in total resolution of the warts. The treatment has also been found to be completely safe in multiple studies. Microwaves are a form of non-ionizing radiation, meaning they cannot cause damage to the DNA of living things. The technology that powers the new wart treatment therapy is also used to treat various types of cancer. The procedure is usually painless, and more sensitive patients are provided with a local anesthetic to lessen discomfort.

Dr. Michael Collins is an experienced surgical podiatrist who, along with his team, strives to create a personalized experience for each patient and their podiatric health. As a board-certified podiatrist, Dr. Collins, is trusted to provide effective, safe treatment for his New York patients. He obtained his undergraduate degree in 2007 after studying Biology at the University of Central Florida before moving to New York in 2009 to study at the New York College of Podiatric Medicine. In 2013, he continued his surgical training at the prestigious New York Presbyterian Brooklyn Methodist Hospital and graduated in 2016. He has a special interest in minimally invasive bunion surgery and running-related injuries, and it is in this area that he specializes. His office offers inviting consultation spaces, modern technology and hour-long appointments. This is a departure from the dated offices and long wait times that other offices are known for. At Bespoke Podiatry, the goal is to empower patients with knowledge about their condition and provide a comprehensive treatment plan whether they are looking to optimize their performance, manage an injury or anything else.

Dr. Collins' one hour consultations are unique in the field of podiatry. These lengthy consultations give the doctor time to discuss what exactly is troubling the patient without either party feeling rushed. His team values the time of their patients, so they will always make adjustments if a patient should ask for them, but they always make it a point to make sure that patients feel like every consultation is about themselves and their needs. As a representative of the clinic says, "Dr. Collins and his team will curate a personalized experience for you and your foot and ankle health. Our tailored strategies are designed to help you succeed."
