TK Roofing & Gutters Arrives At New Akron Location

March 20, 2023

Akron, Ohio - March 20, 2023 -
TK Roofing & Gutters recently moved to a new location in Akron, OH. The company's new office is situated at 3256 S. Main St, Akron, OH 44319, and it will allow the team to elevate the standard of service they offer everyone in the community.

The company states in an article, "The decision to move to our new location was based on one concept ? our customers. We recognized that in order to level up the service we offer the residents of Akron and the surrounding communities, we needed a better facility to accommodate our growing customer base." The Akron location is much larger than the company's previous premises, giving them more room to house the equipment, vehicles, and supplies they rely on.

As such, customers will now benefit from these improvements, including a wider scope of service and a more prompt response anytime they are in need. This will be especially useful during emergencies.

Those who have already worked with TK Roofing & Gutters will be familiar with the high priority they give every customer. While the team specializes in roof replacements, repairs, and gutters, they believe every service must revolve around the customer's needs. Therefore, they explain, it is not enough to simply complete a project and leave.

For instance, the company makes it a point to use the best materials and techniques available on every project. While other roofers may be willing to cut costs and corners without anyone noticing, they consider this a dishonest practice, so the team opts to be as conscientious as possible at every step.

Similarly, they understand that relatively few customers will know as much about their roofs as they should. Where others might take advantage of this, TK Roofing & Gutters upholds a policy of complete transparency. They openly encourage customers to speak to the team about prices, decisions regarding materials, and so on. This ensures that the customer always understands enough about their roof to make an informed decision about a proposed repair or replacement. The company says this practice tends to mean that customers keep coming back when they need other services in the future.

They state in their post, "At TK Roofing & Gutters, we are known for our excellent customer service and commitment to quality work. We've built a reputation for delivering high-quality roofing and gutter installation services to our customers. This move to a new location is a testament to our commitment to the community and the desire to continue serving our clients with the highest level of services."

The Akron roofers can showcase the value of their experience on a number of properties, from private residences to multi-family properties. In both cases, the company relies on the expertise of their team to minimize costs wherever possible without compromising on quality and safety ? a tricky goal to achieve but one that is well within reach for roofers of their caliber. The company works on residential homes, businesses, churches, condos, apartment complexes, and townhomes.

First and foremost, a thorough inspection will be conducted to ascertain what the homeowner's roof will need. The owner will be kept apprised of the team's progress and final conclusions, and the company's full array of resources will be offered along with any solutions they propose. This will ensure the project will be done as quickly as possible. Similarly, the property owner can rest assured that the company will take every measure to ensure their costs will not exceed their budget.

TK Roofing & Gutters has completed its move to the new location, and the team is now ready to commit their full attention to clients who need roof and gutter services in Akron and beyond. Clients are advised to contact Daryl Gentry of TK Roofing & Gutters to discuss their needs or request a quote. Further details can be found on the company's website.
