

Houston Tree Service Experts Introduce High-Tech Methods to Maximize Tree Health

March 20, 2023

March 20, 2023 -
Houston, TX ? Houston Tree Service Experts has introduced advanced tree health treatments to its extensive range of services. With the help of cutting-edge technology and a commitment to sustainability, Houston Tree Service Experts is ushering in a new era of tree care for the City of Houston.

The company?s CEO, Laverne Finn, commented, ?We are excited to bring these high-tech solutions to our customers in Houston. Using cutting-edge tree surgery and maintenance technology will enable us to provide better, more efficient, and more cost-effective care for our client?s trees.?

Houston Tree Service Experts has long been recognized as a leader in arboriculture. In recent years, the company has invested heavily in research and development to stay ahead of the curve in tree health treatments. The company?s latest efforts include aerial imagery, drone technology, and GPS tracking to map out a tree?s root system and identify potential problems before they become serious.

In addition, the company offers tree surgery services using state-of-the-art laser technology that is less invasive than traditional methods. The lasers are more precise and cause minimal damage to the surrounding environment, reducing the risk of further damage to the tree. In addition to utilizing this high-tech mapping solution, Houston Tree Service Experts has also developed an innovative approach to pruning that considers a tree?s natural shape and growth pattern. Using this method, the company can maximize a tree?s health while minimizing environmental damage or disruption.

The company?s CEO, Laverne Finn, said, ?We believe that a holistic approach to arboriculture is essential for maintaining healthy trees. By utilizing cutting-edge technology, we can ensure our clients get the best care for their trees with minimal environmental impact.?

Houston Tree Service Experts is committed to providing the highest service to its clients in Houston and beyond. The company can offer comprehensive tree care for every situation with its innovative solutions and traditional arborist techniques. From emergency tree removal to planting and pruning, Houston Tree Service Experts is dedicated to helping its clients maintain healthy trees at all times.
