

Chicago Company Announces New Corporate Limo Services

December 04, 2015

December 04, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

LimoRSVP has shifted direction to now offer corporate limousine services. The Deerfield, IL based company has announced that they are now providing service to all area airports including O'Hare and Midway, along with business class services for executives who require reliable and hassle-free transportation on demand.

The company provides corporate travel for area events, trade shows, airport transportation, local business meetings, and other travel needs. They claim that any of their corporate limos can be individually tailored to meet specific client requirements, in the most cost effective manner.

Bud Hicks, owner of the company, for which details can be seen at <https://plus.google.com/107249921052219062612/about>, states, "Our goal now is to deliver clean, late model luxury limousines and professional, uniformed drivers to the corporate community." Hicks says that while the company originally provided general limo services, they decided a more specialized corporate service would better serve Chicago's vibrant business community.

LimoRSVP provides efficient systems including emailed confirmations and receipts, traffic, weather, and flight monitoring, and according to Hicks, "other amenities that will cater to the needs of busy executives."

He states that the Chicago executive limo company's aim is to provide comfort, efficiency, and a higher level of personal service. For this new specialized service, LimoRSVP has begun offering VIP packages to corporate clients that guarantee vehicle availability. Hicks points out that his drivers are skilled, licensed with a clean driving record and knowledgeable about the area. The company boasts a large fleet of limos, including the latest model luxury vehicles such as classic sedans, SUV's and executive vans.

While they still provide luxurious transportation services for other purposes, Hicks says this new specialized focus should better meet the needs of their growing corporate client base in the Chicago area.

LimoRSVP was founded in 2005 with a small fleet of limousines and other vehicles, as a means of providing cost effective transportation to Deerfield area residents. Over the past ten years, the company has grown to include ranges outside of Chicago, and a fleet of vehicles that ensures they can meet every client's needs.
