Lacie says, ?so that I can pair those little details with a great design to create a beautiful home that completely represents their individual and unique lifestyles. Being a client-focused design firm also means that each one of my projects looks different from the next and that has been so much fun to navigate!?

Lacie talks about her dedication to meeting the highest standards in the industry by saying, ?There are so many tasks involved behind the scenes to make a business successful and I had to learn most of those the hard way. I spent countless hours reading books, listening to podcasts, and YouTube videos, and relying on advice from fellow designers to find solutions that work for me. To this day, I spend a lot of time evaluating each project ? what went well, what didn?t, and why. This helps me to keep honing my skills and improve my business so that I can provide the absolute best service that I can, each and every time.?

Customers in Houston and surrounding communities have repeatedly praised Lacie for the results she was able to deliver for them. One satisfied client says, ?Lacie is one of the most hard-working and talented people I know. Her attention to detail, combined with her ability to see the big picture, make her an ideal designer! She helped me piece together my entire formal living and den area, making them flow together, yet have their own distinct space, in our open floor plan. I would highly recommend Lacie for any design project you have!?

Another happy homeowner writes, ?Lacie redesigned our entire house and we love it! We redecorated the kids? bathroom and a nursery. She helped us remodel the entire first floor; painting, tiling, and designing the kitchen living room, master bathroom, and bedroom. We just finished this week and could not be happier.?
