Apopka, FL ? Apopka Tree Experts, the premier tree care and landscaping company in Central Florida, has launched a new green infrastructure program to help alleviate urban stormwater management issues. The initiative is part of the company's commitment to helping communities protect their environment and preserve natural resources.

The green infrastructure program focuses on creating sustainable drainage systems by planting native trees and shrubs that will act as a natural filter for rainwater runoff. "Climate change is an urgent challenge that demands immediate action," said Brittany Kelsey, CEO of Apopka Tree Experts. "Our green infrastructure program is just one way we can help reduce the impact of stormwater runoff and make our cities more resilient."

Urban stormwater runoff is a major environmental issue in cities across the United States. When rain falls on impervious surfaces such as roads, parking lots, and rooftops, it carries pollutants into local water bodies, leading to water contamination, decreased water quality, flooding, and other serious problems.

By planting trees and shrubs in urban areas, Apopka Tree Experts' green infrastructure program helps to minimize these impacts and create healthier communities. Trees provide shade and cooling effects and help reduce air pollution while providing a habitat for birds, insects, and other wildlife. In addition, trees absorb water, helping to mitigate flooding and reduce surface water runoff. "Trees play an essential role in urban stormwater management," said Kelsey. "Not only do they help to reduce flooding and improve water quality, but they also provide many other benefits, such as reducing energy consumption, improving air quality, and creating more livable communities."

Apopka Tree Experts' green infrastructure program is designed to help cities create effective stormwater management programs. The program includes consulting services to develop plans for tree planting, maintenance, and removal; soil testing; root analysis; and installation of tree grates and other drainage features. The company also provides educational materials to teach people about the importance of trees in urban areas and how to care for them properly.

"We are committed to helping communities develop comprehensive solutions to their stormwater management needs," said Kelsey. "Through this program, we can work together to create greener, healthier, more sustainable cities for future generations."
