March 24, 2023 -
Treendale Pet Medical - Eaton, Western Australia, a leading veterinary hospital in the Bunbury region, is celebrating a significant milestone in animal care. Since 2002, the clinic has treated and saved the lives of over 25,000 animals, ranging from dogs and cats to exotic pets and wildlife.

Dr Rob Hill, the Director of the veterinarian and skilled veterinary surgeon reflect on the vet's journey over the years, saying, "The team is incredibly proud to have reached this milestone of saving 25,000 animals. It's a testament to the commitment to providing the best possible care for every animal that comes through doors."

Treendale Pet Medical has state-of-the-art facilities equipped with the latest technology and equipment to handle any type of emergency, big or small. The veterinarian offers a wide range of medical, surgical, and diagnostic services to ensure pets receive the best possible care. Whether the pet needs a routine check-up, dental care, or complex surgery, the experienced veterinarians and skilled support staff are there to help.

According to Dr Rob Hill, the vet's success is down to its commitment to providing exceptional veterinary care for pets of all kinds. Dr Rob Hill said, "At Treendale Pet Medical, the team believes that every pet deserves compassionate, personalised care, and that's why the team takes time to get to know the pet, creating a treatment plan that is tailored to their individual needs. From preventive care to ongoing treatment and management of chronic conditions and are here for pets every step of the way.?

At Treendale Pet Medical - Eaton Vet, the team of experienced veterinarians and nurses aim to make every visit as stress-free as possible for both pets and their owners. Dr Hill adds, "The team understands that visiting the vet can be a stressful experience, and that's why they strive to create a relaxed and friendly environment. The team is here to provide the best possible care for pets."

Looking ahead to the future, Dr Hill envisions expanding the clinic's services to include more specialised treatments and continuing to invest in advanced technology and training to provide even better care for pets.

"As the veterinary field continues to evolve, the team wants to stay at the forefront of the latest advancements to provide the best care possible for patients. The vision is to create a pet-centred, custom-built animal hospital that will set a new standard for veterinary care in the region," says Dr Rob Hill.

Treendale Pet Medical is committed to providing exceptional care for pets in Eaton Pet Vet, Bunbury, and the surrounding areas. The team of veterinary professionals is dedicated to ensuring that the pets feel safe, comfortable, and cared for at all times.
