AZ based Phoenix Home Remodeling is offering their expertise in home remodeling to homeowners in Chandler. As an award-winning home remodeling service, Phoenix Home Remodeling is poised well to bring any client?s vision to life, no matter how simple or complicated it may be.

An open discussion with the company?s team of experts is the first step of any project, according to Jeremy Maher, one of the three founders of Phoenix Home Remodeling. ?If you want to transform your outdated property into the functional and stylish home of your dreams, then a phone consultation with our team of experts is th best first step,? he says. ?We will listen to your objectives and ideas for your home improvement project(s) during our consultation and offer professional guidance on how to make your vision a reality. We can also give you a general idea of the costs associated with the remodeling process and address any questions you may have about going forward.?

The Chandler general contractor constantly strives to offer customized solutions for each individual client because they fully understand that everyone has specific preferences and needs. They are different from other general contractors in a number of ways. To begin with, they respect the client?s residence, treating it as if it were their own. Next, they always use materials of the highest caliber, and they aim to build a beautiful space the homeowner will love to show off to guests.

Clients will always find that the company treats them with the utmost professionalism and respect, and their design goals always reflect a desire to make the final result as beautiful and functional as possible. Since Phoenix Home Remodeling takes great pride in their work, they are more than willing to stand behind it ? clients receive a two-year warranty on all labor and workmanship for every project.

A large number of their clients attest to the excellence of the company?s home remodeling service, and the company boasts top ratings on multiple platforms. In a recent review, Tamara Z. commends the company for their ?Professionalism, Punctuality, Quality, Responsiveness and Value,? stating that, ?We contracted Phoenix Home Remodeling to do three (much needed) bathroom remodels for us. Prior, we had several contractors in the area visit and provide quotes. What we found was none of the other contractors could meet all our expectations, except PHR.?

The review adds, ?Their craftsmanship, professionalism, attention to details, organization, promptness, and genuine concern for our project helped make the entire experience worth it! We would like to extend our sincerest appreciation to Ben, Steve, Garron, Aaron, and Brandon. You all were a pleasure to work with! Our bathrooms are beautiful! Thank you!?

The design-build company oversees every project from beginning to end, allowing their team to work more productively. This additionally has the effect of minimizing the possibility of certain aspects or goals getting lost in translation. Further, a more uplifting and encouraging work environment is produced by improved communication and workflow. The company also does not believe in assigning blame or relying on scapegoats ? there is only one point of responsibility. As such, clients will find that they are never called to mediate disputes between the general contractor and the designers, architects, and subcontractors. The team is ready to step up and address any issues that may arise if an aspect of a project is missing or not right.

Phoenix Home Remodeling was founded in 2017 with the intention of assisting homeowners with remodeling projects, particularly when it comes to eliminating the issues which general contractors are most notorious for being involved in. As a result of their efforts, they have won numerous accolades, including Best Remodeling Contractors in Chandler in 2021, according to Expertise. com, First Place in the Remodelers Category in 2021, per Ranking Arizona, and Best of Houzz Service in 2021.
