Botox® cosmetic injectables are designed to temporarily relax the muscles and dramatically decrease wrinkles and fine lines. These are frequently applied around the eyebrows, forehead, eyes, and mouth. The result is smoother skin and a younger appearance, with minor to no downtime and minimal discomfort.

Juvederm dermal fillers are gel-like solutions that are made of natural or synthetic materials and are tissue-friendly. Some are designed to stimulate collagen production, while others help restore hyaluronic acid, which is a naturally occurring hydrating compound that maintains the smoothness and suppleness of the skin.

Facials are used to maintain the skin?s natural glow and the facial treatments they offer may include exfoliation, extractions, massage, mask, and moisturizer. Their wide range of facials are specifically targeted towards each client?s specific needs, improve skin appearance, and overall skin health. They also offer microneedling, which is a proven treatment where tiny needles are used to produce micro-injuries to the skin. These micro-injuries stimulate the natural production of collagen.

Body contouring treatments are also available and are designed to remove unwanted fat deposits and tighten the skin. The CoolSculpting® process uses scientifically controlled cryolipolysis and is designed to get rid of fat cells without damaging the nearby tissues. Body toning treatments are provided through Emsculpt® high-intensity electromagnetic therapy with each treatment session delivering thousands of muscle contractions to help tone and strengthen the muscles in the abdomen, arms, buttocks, thighs, and calves.

NuEra Tight is a skin tightening technology that employs radiofrequency waves to treat sagging or loose skin and help reduce areas with cellulite and excess fat. This technology delivers heat energy to a particular area of the face or body. The capability to reach different depths of the dermis enables it to be used for treating various skin conditions.

Meanwhile, Ultherapy is a non-invasive body treatment that goes deep in order to stimulate the natural production of collagen and elastin. Ultherapy uses ultrasound and is FDA-approved. It may help in lifting the chin, neck, and brow, and in improving the wrinkles and lines on the upper chest. With the use of ultrasound imaging, the provider can make sure the energy is delivered accurately to place where it will be most beneficial for a particular client.
