"With regular car detailing, there is no reason why your car can't look and perform at its peak. Our services can not only make your car look more visually appealing but also make it an overall safer and long-lasting companion. We can restore your car's paint, add wax-based sealants to protect its shine and stave off the damage from UV rays, remove the swirl marks and scratches that may betray its age, and even polish the chrome to make it feel brand new again. Phoenix residents searching online for "Paint Correction Near Me" can also rely on the company's range of auto detailing services to keep their car's paint from fading, corroding, or suffering UV damage. Customers are offered the choice of several ceramic coatings at a wide range of price points, each with their own special protection features. Drexler's ceramic coatings are designed to last at least five years with the warranty period extending the time frame up to ten. The coating protects the vehicle against scratches and water spots and makes it easy to clean with simple hose pressure.

Nasiol ZR53 is a nano-ceramic coating that has a two-layer system and offers maximum resistance to acid rains, UV rays, and bird droppings. The TUV-certified paint protection option creates a scratch-resistant surface making it ideal for a vehicle's clear coat. PROJE ceramic coatings create weather-resistant shields that can also be used on the windshield and headlights.

"If you are worried about chipping paint and the damage your car might take, we can help you pick out the right coating option for you," says the spokesperson for D.I. Auto Care.
