April 18, 2023 -
Junk Holler, a full-service residential and commercial junk removal company in Boise, ID, is inviting local customers to find out more about its foreclosure cleanout services.

According to the latest statistics collated using public records, Boise currently has nearly 600 properties in foreclosure. Foreclosed properties sell for an average price of around $144,000. To make sure that sellers get a healthy profit on their investment, they must earmark a significant amount of money to prepare the property for the buyers. Cleaning out the belongings left behind by the last homeowner makes up a sizeable portion of these costs.

The spokesperson for Junk Holler talks about the need for affordable foreclosure junk disposal services by saying, ?Our clients in Boise, who are interested in selling foreclosed homes, need a cost-effective and convenient way to get rid of all the junk that is stopping them from going ahead with their plans for the property. They are already going to be swamped with a litany of tasks to get the home ready for auction. We believe that junk disposal should be the last thing they have to worry about. So, here at Junk Holler, we designed our foreclosure cleanup services with these exact clients in mind.?

Junk Holler works with all kinds of clients looking to sell foreclosed homes in Boise and nearby areas. The company helps real estate and asset management companies, banks, and REO agents quickly turn a foreclosed property around by offering prompt and responsive junk removal services at an affordable price. Junk Holler can help clean up everything that might have been left behind including appliances, old furniture, electronics, old mattresses, refrigerators, garbage, assorted junk, and other debris.

?Clearing an entire property is a challenging and time-consuming task,? the spokesperson for Junk Holler says. ?That is why our clients rely on us to make the process as seamless as possible. Our professional team members not only lift all the heavy items and do a complete cleanout but we also ensure that the property is not damaged while doing it. We also make sure to discard the debris in an eco-friendly way by recycling the unwanted items, such as wood, metal, and appliances, and preventing hazardous materials from reaching the local landfills in Ada County and Canyon County.?

The price of Junk Holler?s foreclosure cleanout services varies based on the amount of junk that needs to be hauled off. Customers can expect to pay anywhere from $69 to $550 with an additional labor fee of $75 per hour included in the overall price of the waste removal service. Clients are offered a direct quote upon a visit and inspection without any hidden fees or tacked-on charges.

The Boise junk disposal company has been serving the Treasure Valley area since 2012. Over the years, it has helped countless homeowners, tenants, contractors, and business owners solve their junk removal problems with ease. For its efforts, Junk Holler has earned a perfect 5.0 out of 5.0 rating on its Google Business Profile from over 300 reviews.

One recent review says, ?I've used another company before, and they were really expensive and kind of a hassle to schedule with. Junk Holler was professional and responded super-fast. They were really patient and accommodating with my last-minute scheduling. The prices were extremely reasonable, and they even swept up afterward. I'll definitely be using them again in the future.?

Another satisfied Boise homeowner writes, ?Had 2 helpers removed and discard my old couch. They offered to pick it up sooner than expected and it worked out perfectly on my end. They were friendly, neat and so polite. Great service! Would definitely re-hire them in the future and recommend them to others! Not to add that they were fairly cheap compared to others.?
