Marietta, GA ? Tree Service Marietta announced today that it is partnering with local fashion designer Paul Ruckoff to create a line of sustainable clothing made from natural fibers sourced from trees in and around the Marietta area. The collaboration is part of Tree Service Marietta's commitment to sustainability and will help to promote the use of environmental-friendly materials in the fashion industry.

"At Tree Service Marietta, we are committed to finding innovative ways to protect our environment and create sustainable solutions," said Claire Veredico, CEO of Tree Service Marietta. "By partnering with Paul Ruckoff, we can create a sustainable, eco-friendly clothing line and support a local artist."

The exclusive line of clothing will feature garments made out of sustainable materials such as cotton, linen, hemp, and even wool from local trees. Each garment will be crafted by hand using traditional methods, including weaving, knitting, and crocheting. The collection will include shirts, dresses, skirts, and jackets.
