Denver, Colorado based law firm Johnson Law Group LLC is ready to assist the community with a range of family law services. The law firm has honed their expertise in all areas of family law, and they have long committed themselves to helping Colorado families with all their legal needs.

Myles S. Johnson from Johnson Law Group LLC says, "Family is without a doubt one of the greatest blessings you can ask for, but even the happiest of families sometimes need legal services. In such situations, you need to have a reliable and trustworthy law firm to reach out to, and that's us. Whether you are working on becoming a parent through adoption or trying to resolve marital conflicts, you can rest assured that Johnson Law Group, LLC can take care of all your legal needs."

The Johnson Law Group LLC family lawyers are adept with handling all areas of family law with an eye to sensitivity. Their years of experience resolving legal issues for families, such as divorce, abuse, child custody, alimony payments, partitions, inheritance, neglect, and other types of family disputes have imparted a wealth of intuition on dealing with people who need support at what is often a low point in their lives. As such, clients can expect their attorney to be as understanding as they are legally capable.

The law firm can help Denver residents with advice, document drafting, and court representation during their family law case. Whether the client is dealing with separation, asset division, alimony payments, or child support, Johnson Law Group's team of lawyers can help assure a fair outcome in their case.

One of the most common services provided by the law firm is assistance during divorce. As the law firm explains, Colorado divorce laws can be quite complex, and couples may not know the full extent of their rights during a divorce. As a result, even in amicable divorces, working with an experienced attorney may better protect both parties' interests and rights. Through mediation or litigation, the firm can help their clients gain the most equitable results from their divorce, including fair distribution of assets, division of the marital home, and more. The company's services also cover the full extent of legal matters, such as child custody and child support, where necessary.

Johnson Law Group LLC also provide legal services pertaining to adoption. While adopting and providing a loving and supportive environment is one of the greatest gifts anyone could grant a child, adoption can be a complex legal process. Depending on the family demographic and how specific the adoption criteria are, excited parents may face red tape and disappointments along the way. Johnson Law Group assists families with all aspects of international and domestic adoptions. The firm can handle all the legalities of the adoption so that the new parents can concentrate exclusively on their new family.

Divorce and adoption are not the only legal arenas Johnson Law Group LLC excel in, and their expertise and experience with all areas of family law has earned the law firm rave reviews from Denver residents. In a review, Steven Ennis writes, "My wife and I had the honor of working with Shannon O'Keefe and her staff and are very happy with the results. They answered all our questions as we were guided through the process and helped us through to our goals. We will definitely use them on any/all of our legal needs. Thank you again!"

In another review, Lindsey Schreiber writes, "We started working with Robert and his Paralegal, Carrie, to help with a parenting schedule filed a few years ago that was very vague and caused a lot of stress on our family. Robert and Carrie made very reasonable suggestions and helped keep the stress of the whole court process to a minimum. They were both very helpful and offered solutions that were practical and reasonable. Robert never over-promised, and overall we are very happy with how things turned out. Thank you again, Robert and Carrie!"
