April 07, 2023 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Immaculate Softwash, a company based in Longwood, FL, would like to talk about their soft washing services. Soft washing is a gentler, safer alternative to pressure washing which prevents damage to surfaces and lasts a lot longer than traditional pressure washing. It also removes and kills mold at the source while pressure washing requires several attempts to remove mold.

Immaculate Softwash has made it their mission to leave the planet in a better state than they found it, and their safe, environmentally friendly soft washing services are just one of the many ways in which the team goes about protecting the environment. Their website can be found here: <https://immaculatesoftwash.com/>.

"We don't follow environmental trends; rather, we embrace them as an ethical obligation and strive to use eco-friendly cleaning compounds that are biodegradable, water-based and low VOC (volatile organic compounds) so that future generations can benefit from our efforts," the company says. "Immaculate SoftWash is proud to be a leader in environmental stewardship. All of the soft washing chemical products we use are safe for discharge into the environment, and our rigorous training and operating protocols guarantee that they all remain within acceptable regulations."

There are a number of benefits associated with soft washing, the most notable of which is the relatively low pressure used. Soft washing uses 60 PSI or less, ensuring that damage to the surface is minimal, and anyone standing nearby is unlikely to be hurt. Pressure washing, however, uses over 1,000 PSI. Roof manufacturers recommend soft washing due to how gentle and safe it is, and the method is approved for all types of roofs. Despite the relatively low pressure, soft washers can reach nearly a hundred feet off the ground. Additionally, all cleaning solutions used are 100% biodegradable. Soft washing has many advantages, and hiring Immaculate Softwash to soft wash a property also has its benefits. The company says, "Our team will never compromise on quality, and they will deliver on every job. Customer service is number one, and we value our clients. Our state-of-the-art equipment is ideal for even the dirtiest of jobs. We love a challenge!?"

Immaculate Soft Wash follows a specific series of steps to ensure that each client's property is protected. The first step is to identify and protect any delicate surfaces or items, like plants, that need to be moved or otherwise protected during the wash. The next step is to hydrate all plants in the area, including grass. Once the property is prepared and all plants are hydrated, the actual soft washing begins.

Immaculate's soft washing team works from top to bottom, ensuring every surface is cleaned and sanitized. Service does not end once the softwashing is over, however, and Immaculate Soft Wash waters the client's plants again (to ensure that their cleaning solution has been diluted thoroughly) before introducing their plant care treatment. Once everything is clean and all the plants have been attended to, Immaculate Softwash will clean up the property, leaving it as spotless as they found it.

"Had an outstanding experience with Immaculate SoftWash recently when our roof was done," says a review of Immaculate Softwash. "The work was impeccable, timely and priced very fairly. Joe was very prompt with his appointments, and judging by the way he kept his equipment in pristine condition, we knew he was the best choice for the work. We would highly recommend this company and its superior workmanship. Refreshing in this day and age! Thanks, Joe, will be using you again!?"

Another client says about the company's soft washing services, "Joe is very concerned about his work, and he shares the same concerns that we had about protecting plants, etc. He made sure we were satisfied with the job before he left. Our experience with Immaculate SoftWash was excellent, and we will use his company in the future and have recommended them to several of our neighbors as well."
