December 08, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

How to Meet Your Perfect Match.com is an online dating and relationship coaching business based in London, United Kingdom, which is committed to helping people find true love. It has released a new program to help men and women to find a way to not spend Christmas single. The essential relationship advice for women is laid out in a book that comes with a number of bonus features as well.

"Christmas is a time of the year that should be spent with loved ones," says dating and relationship coach Candy Jannetta from HowtoMeetYourPerfectMatch.com. "Unfortunately, not everybody is in a relationship and I would hate it for someone to be alone at Christmas, particularly when they shouldn't have to. I really want to encourage women to get my book and take advantage of the additional features, so that they may find their own personal happiness before the holiday season."

Women can visit Candy's website and request a free report that describes the seven steps necessary to find a perfect match. They can also sign up to her newsletter for free, enabling them to receive regular information on all matters of love and finding their perfect match. Finally, they can request a free, no obligation telephone consultation with Candy Jannetta herself. Put together with the rest of the information that is available on the website,there is no reason why anyone should be single at christmas.

Those who have turned to Candy for help have been overwhelmingly happy with the results she has enabled them to achieve. "I met Candy earlier on this year, and from then onwards it became clear that I had issues," says broadcaster Samantha Brown. "Candy talks so sincerely and it is obvious her heart's desire is to see people like me with relationship issues healed and find the right partner. My breakthrough came when she helped me identify my real stumbling block - that because of my past relationships, I have no confidence in what I can offer in a relationship. I could never have known that without her gently nudging towards it; and for that I will always be grateful."

Brown's sentiment echoes that of many other reviewers, all of whom are in very respected professions.
