

Las Vegas Company Announces New Location For Water Damage Restoration Services

December 09, 2015

December 09, 2015 -

Five Star Water Damage in Henderson, Nevada, has announced an expansion of services for residential and commercial customers. The company provides water damage restoration, and has increased their customer base to include those in and around the Las Vegas area.

In addition to their new service area, the company has also launched a Facebook page, found at <https://www.facebook.com/Five-Star-Water-Damage-503767276464893>, which they state they will use to update consumers on various aspects of water damage, as well as offer tips and advice and information regarding upcoming promotions.

A company spokesperson states, "We've been working on expanding our service area for quite some time, and are proud to finally be able to offer restoration services to those outside of Las Vegas as well as inside the city."

The company provides restoration services that include mold and mildew removal, as well as restructuring foundations and supporting walls as needed. Once restructuring is completed, they will also redo the interior including putting up new interior walls, painting, and flooring work.

"We really do offer the entire package when it comes to water damage restoration, and want our new service area customers to feel confident in our more than 10 years of experience in the industry," states the spokesperson.

A Twitter account has also been created by Five Star Water Damage. The Twitter page, which can be seen at <https://twitter.com/5starwaterd>, will also be used to update customers on a number of tips for preventing water damage, as well as what to do when water damage occurs.

The company is now providing services for both home and business owners throughout Clark County, offering competitive pricing on all of their restoration services. The company urges customers to contact them immediately when they notice water damage in their properties, in order to assess and begin repairing the issue before further damage can be done.

More about Five Star Water Damage, including a complete list of services that they offer and their new service area range, can be seen on the company's official website. Potential customers can also contact them through the website to schedule an evaluation of damage.
