LAKE ELSINORE, CA ? J&M Tree Service Lake Elsinore, a renowned tree care company in California, has announced the organization of a one-of-a-kind tree-inspired dance festival ? Dancing with Trees. This unique event will showcase various dance performances inspired by the grace and beauty of trees, fostering a deeper connection between nature and the arts.

Lugi Ken, CEO of J&M Tree Service Lake Elsinore, shares the vision behind the festival: "We wanted to create an event that highlights the artistic side of trees and their impact on our lives. Trees have long inspired artists of all kinds, and the Dancing with Trees festival aims to bring that inspiration to life through dance."

The festival, scheduled for later this year, will feature a diverse lineup of professional and amateur dancers, each presenting their unique interpretation of the relationship between trees and movement. Performances will include various dance styles, such as contemporary, ballet, and traditional folk dances, reflecting the diversity and beauty of both trees and human expression.
