December 08, 2015

December 08, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

A Millennium Air Conditioning and Heating, a business in Henderson, NV, has announced that they have launched a number of new deals on their heating and air conditioning services. The company has been in business for many generations and they are considered as true experts in their field. The new deals have attracted a great number of new customers to their doors.

"We have been working in the Nevada communities for so long now that we feel part of the community ourselves," says a representative from A Millennium Air Conditioning and Heating. "As a result, we are always looking at ways of improving our services and prices and we're so happy to have launched a number of new special offers and deals to our clients."

The most popular deal they have offered is probably the 10 percent reduction in price for all seniors and disabled American veterans. Nevada has its fair share of veterans and since the country continues to be engaged in quite a few long, dangerous wars, the number of veterans is rising. Offering them some assistance in being able to remain comfortable is something that the company takes great pride in.

"We want to make sure that everybody in Nevada is able to be comfortable and, at the end of the day, safe," adds the representative. "This is why we don't solely focus on veterans. We offer everybody a quick check special, so they can have their existing system checked out for very little money. And we have launched a special on our Man Club, an annual preventative maintenance program, so that people can always keep their HVAC systems in working order."

All special offers are available through the company's website, where their overall ethos and their years of experience are also explained in more detail. People who have worked with A Millennium Air Conditioning Heating have been full of praise of the work that they have done and always fully recommend them to their friends and others. They do this not just because of the great deals they offer, but also because of their high quality of service.
