Leveraging years of experience in the arboriculture industry, Tree Service Experts Riverside has developed a unique approach to tree care that goes beyond traditional maintenance techniques. By diagnosing and treating the root causes of tree health problems, the company's team of certified arborists is breathing new life into ailing trees and restoring the natural beauty of the Riverside landscape.

"Our tree revitalization program is designed to address the underlying issues that often lead to tree declines, such as poor soil conditions, inadequate watering, and improper pruning practices," said CEO Douglas

Doman. "By providing a comprehensive solution that targets the root of the problem, we can help restore the health and vitality of our community's trees and ensure their continued growth and longevity."

Tree Service Experts Riverside's revitalization program begins with a thorough assessment of each tree's condition, followed by a customized treatment plan tailored to its specific needs. This may include a combination of deep root fertilization, soil aeration, targeted pruning, and the application of beneficial microbes and other organic amendments to improve soil health.

"To effectively treat ailing trees, it's essential first to understand the unique factors contributing to their decline," Doman explained. "Our team of skilled arborists is trained to identify the often subtle signs of tree stress and recommend the most effective course of action to help them recover."
