El Camino Real, California - April 25, 2023 -
Austin, TX - Austin Tree Services, a leading provider of comprehensive tree care solutions in Austin, Texas, is excited to announce the launch of its revolutionary tree color restoration services. Under the guidance of CEO Douglas Andrews, the company has developed innovative techniques designed to restore the vibrant hues of trees affected by environmental stressors, disease, or pest infestations, giving them a new lease on life.

"Trees not only provide essential environmental benefits but also contribute significantly to the aesthetic appeal of our landscapes," said CEO Douglas Andrews. "At Austin Tree Services, we are constantly exploring new ways to enhance and preserve the beauty of our urban forests. Our groundbreaking tree color restoration solutions offer a unique and effective approach to reviving the natural splendor of trees that have lost their luster due to various challenges."

The process of tree color restoration involves carefully applying safe, eco-friendly color-enhancing treatments that rejuvenate the appearance of the tree's foliage, bark, and branches. The treatments are specially formulated to match the tree's natural color palette, ensuring a seamless and authentic appearance.

"Restoring the vibrancy of a tree's color is both an art and a science," explained Andrews. "Our skilled arborists take great care in selecting and applying the appropriate color treatments, taking into account the tree's species, age, and overall health. The result is a stunning transformation that breathes new life into the tree and enhances the beauty of the surrounding environment."
