Leafing Through History: Pasadena Tree Services' Heritage Tree Tours and Talks

April 27, 2023

April 27, 2023 -
Pasadena, CA ? Pasadena Tree Services, a renowned tree care company in Southern California, is delighted to announce its Heritage Tree Tours and Talks launch. This unique initiative aims to educate the public about the rich history and cultural significance of heritage trees in Pasadena and surrounding areas. CEO Bernett Rojas emphasizes preserving these living monuments and sharing their stories with the community.

"Our Heritage Tree Tours and Talks program is designed to celebrate the incredible history of our region's trees, which have been witnesses to centuries of growth and change," explains Rojas. "By showcasing these magnificent specimens and sharing their stories, we hope to instill a sense of pride and appreciation for our local environment and inspire people to become stewards of our urban forests."

The Heritage Tree Tours, led by certified arborists from Pasadena Tree Services, will take participants on guided walks through some of Pasadena's most picturesque neighborhoods, parks, and gardens, highlighting notable trees with historical or cultural significance. The tours will provide fascinating insights into these trees' role in shaping the region's history and how they continue to enrich the community.

In addition to the guided tours, Pasadena Tree Services will also host a series of Heritage Tree Talks featuring guest speakers from various fields, including historians, ecologists, and arborists. These informative presentations will delve deeper into the stories behind Pasadena's heritage trees, exploring their ecological importance, historical context, and the challenges they face in today's urban environment.

CEO Bernett Rojas shares his excitement about the new program: "The Heritage Tree Tours and Talks are not only educational but also a fantastic way to engage the community and foster a greater appreciation for our city's natural beauty. We believe that understanding the history and significance of these trees will inspire residents to value and care for our urban forests."

Pasadena Tree Services is committed to the safety and well-being of all participants and will follow strict COVID-19 guidelines during the tours and talks, including maintaining social distancing and requiring face masks.

"Trees have the power to connect us with our past, teach us about the present, and inspire us to shape the future," says Rojas. "We are thrilled to share the stories of Pasadena's heritage trees and encourage a deeper connection with the natural world."

The Heritage Tree Tours and Talks will commence next month, with booking details and schedules to be announced soon.
