Fort Worth, TX ? Fort Worth Tree Services, a leading tree care provider in the region, is proud to announce the launch of its Youth Tree Ambassador Program, an initiative designed to inspire and educate the next generation of tree enthusiasts. Under the guidance of CEO Maranly Larabiosa and her team of certified arborists, the program will cultivate young "Canopy Crusaders" to become champions of urban forestry and environmental stewardship.

"We recognize the tremendous potential in today's youth to drive positive change for our environment," says Maranly Larabiosa. "Our Youth Tree Ambassador Program aims to ignite a passion for trees and nature in young people, equipping them with the knowledge and skills to become effective advocates for urban tree preservation and care."

The program will offer workshops, field trips, and hands-on learning experiences tailored to engage and educate young participants. Through these activities, the Canopy Crusaders will learn about the importance of trees in urban ecosystems, proper tree care techniques, and the many environmental benefits trees provide.

"As part of the program, our Youth Tree Ambassadors will have the opportunity to take part in tree planting events, learn about tree identification and pruning, and explore arboriculture and urban forestry careers," explains Larabiosa. "These experiences will empower them to make a real difference in their communities and help to protect our planet for future generations."

The Youth Tree Ambassador Program will also encourage participants to take on leadership roles in their schools and neighborhoods, promoting tree preservation and care to their peers and community members.

"By fostering a sense of responsibility and stewardship among our young Canopy Crusaders, we hope to inspire a lifelong commitment to environmental protection and sustainability," says Larabiosa.

Fort Worth Tree Services is committed to ensuring the safety and well-being of all Youth Tree Ambassador Program participants, adhering to strict COVID-19 guidelines for all workshops, field trips, and hands-on learning experiences. These measures include social distancing, mandatory face coverings, and frequently shared tools and equipment sanitation.

"We're excited to see the positive impact our Canopy Crusaders will have on their communities and the environment as a whole," adds Larabiosa. "By nurturing a love for trees and nature in our youth, we can create a lasting legacy of environmental stewardship for generations to come."
