A Feast in the Forest: Albuquerque Tree Experts' Tree-to-Table Culinary Experiences

April 27, 2023

April 27, 2023 -
Albuquerque, NM ? Albuquerque Tree Experts, a renowned tree care company in New Mexico, is proud to announce its innovative Tree-to-Table Culinary Experiences, combining the passions for trees and gastronomy. These unique events, led by CEO Brylee Dianna and her team of certified arborists, will showcase local trees' diverse and delectable offerings while educating attendees on the importance of tree care and preservation.

"Many people don't realize the wealth of delicious and nutritious ingredients that can be found in our backyards," says Brylee Dianna. "With our Tree-to-Table Culinary Experiences, we want to open people's eyes to the edible treasures hidden in our urban forests and foster a deeper appreciation for the surrounding trees."

The Tree-to-Table Culinary Experiences will feature various events, such as guided tree identification walks, hands-on workshops on harvesting tree-based ingredients, and cooking demonstrations led by expert chefs. In addition, participants will have the opportunity to sample dishes prepared using locally sourced tree-derived ingredients, such as fruits, nuts, leaves, and syrups, showcasing the rich and diverse flavors of Albuquerque's native tree species.

"Our culinary events are designed to be educational and delicious," explains Dianna. "Attendees will learn about the ecological importance of trees, sustainable harvesting practices, and how trees contribute to our local food systems."

The Tree-to-Table Culinary Experiences will also highlight the importance of proper tree care and preservation, emphasizing trees' vital role in supporting local ecosystems, providing habitat for wildlife, and contributing to human health and well-being.

"By demonstrating the direct link between healthy trees and the delicious ingredients they provide, we hope to inspire greater interest in tree care and conservation," says Dianna. "We believe that fostering a connection between people and their local trees can help to create a more sustainable and resilient urban forest for generations to come."

Albuquerque Tree Experts is committed to ensuring the safety and enjoyment of all participants in their Tree-to-Table Culinary Experiences. Therefore, the company will adhere to strict COVID-19 guidelines for all events, including social distancing, mandatory face coverings, and frequent sanitation of shared tools and equipment.

"We're thrilled to offer this unique and delicious opportunity for our community to engage with and learn from our incredible local trees," adds Dianna. "We can't wait to share the many flavors and benefits our urban forest offers."
