Las Vegas, NV Business 123Employee, is proud to announce that they have been named 'preferred provider' by Outsource Smart. Outsource Smart is a leading authority in the world of outsourcing and business. Receiving their official recommendation will likely secure more business for the company.

"Outsource Smart is the go to authority on all things about business outsourcing," says L.J. Gacho from 123Employee. "Companies that are first considering outsourcing go to them to find out what it is all about, for recommendations, for advice and more. To be named as 'preferred provider' is a testament to the quality of our service."

The company started from humble beginnings with just a few employees. Today, they are a huge company, employing hundreds of people. Their telephone operators, to which services can be outsourced, are all in the Philippines. This provides businesses with numerous benefits. Firstly, all operators are fully trained to be proficient in English, something that can easily be checked by listening to a recording of the voice of their operators.

Also of importance is how the company is making a meaningful and positive contribution to the world as a whole. "We employ, train and educate people from impoverished communities in the Philippines," adds L.J. Gacho. "The difference we have made to the local economy is tremendous, and that is all thanks to the trust our clients have placed on us."

That trust is significant, with clients leaving video testimonials about the effectiveness of the work done by the company on their website. "We help people upgrade their lifestyle by saving them time and money on products and services such as wholesale travel, the best gourmet storable food on the planet, wellness products, high quality furniture, appliances, and even their new cars," says John Farris with Worldwide Travel Plans. "Worldwide Travel Plan members never have to worry that they paid too much. Since we've added 123Employee as our virtual assistants we've been able to focus on other aspects of our business. They handle everything from telemarketing, social media marketing, search engine optimization, our personal calendars, email deployment, and set appointments for us. 123Employee has helped us grow our business at a phenomenal rate and they are so dependable."
