A spokesperson for the company says, "Our virtual office packages are designed to give you the peace of mind that comes with knowing your business is being handled in a professional manner, while you are enjoying the benefits of the flexibility and cost savings of working from home. Setup for your virtual office space is simple and can be completed within 24 hours. Our offices are close to downtown Denver, conveniently located in the Denver Tech Center (DTC). Professionals can enjoy everything the Mile High City has to offer, whether you are joining us for in-person office space, using meeting rooms, or using our virtual office services."

They offer a wide variety of virtual office programs in Denver and Greenwood Village that start with basic mail service or telephone answering service and grow to include meeting room time. Their business identity and corporate image programs suit all of your business needs in one low monthly payment.

With the telephone answering service program, they provide dedicated local business telephone numbers with live, on-site answering provided by their professional staff. Calls are transferred to a dedicated voicemail box or off-site number. Voicemails can be accessed 24/7 and the program also includes voicemail to email services.

The mail service program provides a reputable DTC mailing address to receive mail for the client's professional business address. Clients will publish their mailing address across all platforms so when someone researches their company they see a professional building. Their staff will also provide mail handling and package acceptance services. Mail is placed in an individual secure mailbox with access during business hours and mail forwarding is available to any address in the US.

The mail and meeting rooms program includes the mail service program plus 10 hours each month in a physical meeting room which can be a private office or a room that accommodates up to 12. It also includes a listing on the building directory in the main lobby and free wireless access while on-site.

The mail and telephone service program includes the mail service program plus additional services which include a dedicated local telephone number for the business with a live receptionist and on-site personalized telephone answering services; transfer of business calls to an off-site number or a dedicated voicemail box; and a 24/7 accessible voice mail box plus voicemail to email services. A listing on the building directory in the main lobby is also included.

The business identity program combines the mail and telephone service programs and adds meeting room time. The program includes a listing on the building directory; a dedicated local business phone number with live, on-site personalized answering service; transfer of business calls to an off-site number or dedicated voicemail box; 24/7 access to voice mailbox plus voicemail to email services; 8 hours each month in a six-person meeting room or private office; and wireless internet access on-site.
