AwesomePartyHire, after 5 profitable years in business and a planned expansion in the works, has recently announce that they will sell to any party that can come up with a fair offer. This is a huge milestone for the Ringwood, Victoria Australia-based Party Equipment Hire business, which has provided Party Equipment Hire to party celebrants and event organizers since the year 2000.

AwesomePartyHire got its start in the year 2000 when founder James Balcombe saw an opportunity and an unanswered demand in the party hire niche. One of the earliest challenges AwesomePartyHire faced was finding a fast and efficient way to deliver quality and safe-to-use party equipment while maintaining affordability to their clients.

While every business faces challenges,AwesomePartyHire are fortunate enough to have enjoyed real successes, wins, and victories. Once such victory came when seemingly against all other giant party hire companies, they made their first delivery by the truckload using just a house backyard as their depot. Now, after years of rising popularity, the company now stores its trucks and party equipment in a gigantic Ringwood factory.

James Balcombe, Founder at AwesomePartyHire, was also quoted when discussing another big win. "One of the high points of AwesomePartyHire's history so far was having been recommended as a valued supporter to the community by schools, companies such as McDonald's, Bunnings, RMIT And Swinburne University, WorkSafe and many other well-known businesses and organizations In Melbourne.

AwesomePartyHire's Founder, James Balcombe says, "We are hopeful that the buyer or next owner/s of this business will render that same quality of services as efficiently as we have done and that the future owner/s will share in our belief that the secret to getting this far in business today is Putting the customer first. Without them, AwesomeParty would not be a huge business as it is now."

AwesomePartyHire currently consists of 25 employees and has big plans for the upcoming year. One of their core objectives is to become the number one quality and safe party hire equipment in Melbourne, Australia. Business for sale in Australia or Victoria specifically are quite rare especially a no agent business for sale like this one people are encouraged to take a look.
