Electronic Merchant Systems Provides Payment Processing Solutions for Office Supply Stores

May 17, 2023

Cleveland, Ohio - May 17, 2023 -
Electronic Merchant Systems (EMS), a company based in Cleveland, OH, is happy to announce they offer innovative solutions for credit card processing for office supply stores. Office supply store owners have a lot on their plate, from ensuring that every item is stocked to managing employees; they don't have the time to deal with slow point of sale systems. That is why streamlining and simplifying payment processes will make it more convenient for customers and help in the daily management of the store.

A representative for EMS says, "Electronic Merchant Systems works closely with businesses like your office supply store to deliver payment solutions that promote success. EMS can aid your business's growth with flexible payment solutions, mobile payment processing, and superior point of sale systems for your office supply store. With over 1,000 Google customer reviews, it's clear that we have helped many businesses like yours grow. We'll help your office supply store become the place for businesses to pick up the supplies they need."

For office supply stores, they recommend the MaxxPay Pro POS system, which offers various features such as: quick payments, high functionality, an easy-to-use interface, and a cloud-based back office. It allows tapping, swapping, chip, and contactless payments for all major credit card providers, which means faster payment for customers. It also enables the simplification of the inventory process for the office supply store. MaxxPay Pro has an easy-to-use interface, an 8-inch touch screen, a 4.3-inch color display, and a printer. It also has a cash drawer for four bills, four coins, and a barcode scanner. Lastly, it offers cloud-based back-office reporting that allows access to data anywhere as long as an internet connection can be established.

Most supply stores also want the ability to accept mobile payments. That is why they also provide EMSmobile, which can be used on an iOS or Android device. With EMSmobile, magnetic strips, chips, and contactless payment systems, such as Google Wallet and Apple Pay, are all available for office supply store customers. It also allows the user to manage cash payments; handle multiple users simultaneously; the creation of simple or itemized transactions; and the monitoring and tracking of all inventories.

The EMS spokesperson says, "If you own an office supply store, you can be assured that EMS will do all it takes to make sure your business's methods of accepting payments are both secure and effective. EMS has been a pioneer in the payment processing industry for over three decades. We can provide your office supply store with first-rate merchant services because of our in-depth expertise in the industry. In addition, EMS has been a certified level 1 PCI provider for over ten years. We also have customer service agents available 24 hours a day to solve any problems you encounter."

Starting in 1988, Electronic Merchant Systems has evolved into a leading national payment processor and merchant services company. With 35 years of payment processing experience, they have helped small businesses boost their profit by helping them to accept a wide range of payment options, such as all major debit cards, stored-value cards, electronic bank transfers, credit cards, and electronic check services. They have helped thousands of start-ups, retail, and Internet businesses across the country, and 95 percent of EMS customers who took their free rate review, saved money on their credit card processing fees. EMS has 11 regional sales offices in major cities in the US, and they are present in more than 100 other cities.

Those interested in learning more about the payment processing solutions available, such as their office supply store POS system, can visit the EMS website or contact them through the telephone or email.
