Ridgeline Roofers Columbia Provides Roofing Services Including Roof Cricket Repair or Installation in Wilde Lake Columbia MD

June 06, 2023

COLUMBIA, MD - June 06, 2023 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Ridgeline Roofers Columbia, a roofing company based in Columbia, MD, wants to point out that they are offering the services offered by a roofer in Wilde Lake, which is a village in Columbia located just north and west of Columbia Town Center. Wilde Lake also refers to the man-made drainage reservoir that was dug in 1966. This man-made lake collects storm water runoff from an area of 1,140 acres and can hold up to 48.2 million gallons. The village and the lake are named after Frazar B. Wilde, who was a former chairman of the board of Connecticut General Life Insurance Company. The village center is found in the Wilde Lake Village Green and has several restaurants, a small grocery store, and other retail stores.

A roof cricket is a structure that has the purpose of directing water flow down the roof properly, especially around the chimney. The chimney is one of the biggest penetrations through the roof, which means that it is a location where leakage may occur and allow water to enter the home through the roof. A roof cricket is a double triangle structure that is constructed behind a chimney to ensure water is correctly diverted around it. This is because as water goes down the roof, it will hit the cricket and split down each side rather than hitting the flat wall of the chimney.

The installation of a roof cricket is actually mandated by the International Building Code (IBC), which requires a cricket placed perpendicular to the slope of the roof for chimneys that are more than 30 inches wide. The IBC was implemented in 2012 so those with older roofs need not have a cricket. However, once the roof has to be replaced, it will now require the installation of a roof cricket.

It is important to note that the installation of a roof cricket will have an effect on the cost of roof replacement. The materials and size of the materials for the cricket will affect the cost, including the labor and time for building the roof.

A spokesperson for Ridgeline Roofers Columbia says, "When you decide to replace your roof, it is important to choose the right materials for the job. A professional roofer will be able to guide you through the choices and offer recommendations based on your budget, longevity of each material, and overall aesthetics."

The quality of the roofing services provided by Ridgeline Roofers Columbia has been praised by customers. Currently, they have an overall rating of 5.0 out of 5 stars on Google and in a recent review, Pablo K. gave them a five star rating and said, "I've had nothing but great experiences with Ridgeline Roofers Columbia. I loved that the owner showed up with the crew and stayed the majority of the time. They take a lot of pride in their work, and I can tell they have been doing roofing for many years.
