

Sparks Law Firm Provides Firearms Lawyer Services in Texas

May 19, 2023

FORT WORTH, TX - May 19, 2023 -
Sparks Law Firm, a firm based in Fort Worth, TX, wants to emphasize that their criminal justice lawyers, such as a firearms lawyer or DWI lawyer, are offering their services in Texas. Justin Sparks, owner of the firm, has expertise on the firearms law in Texas and he is a Firearms Program Attorney through the Texas Law Shield. He wants to stress that the legal landscape surrounding the Second Amendment is both confusing and controversial and a person charged with a firearms crime has to have an experienced firearms lawyer to guide them through the legal process.

Justin Sparks says, ?Texas is an open carry state, but there are still a number of Federal and Texas laws regulating firearms. Obtaining a handgun license in Dallas/Fort Worth is fairly simple, but whether or not you have a License to Carry (LTC), you should be familiar with the laws and regulations on carrying and transporting a firearm. You need a firearms attorney that can defend you when the you are facing a violation of your right to carry and use a firearm.?

It is important to note that while the 2021 Legislature had approved Constitutional carry of handguns, a person?s right to carry is not unrestricted. There are limitations on where and when a person can carry a firearm. Those who have an LTC actually have more responsibility with regards to carrying a firearm and, if not done correctly, that person can be arrested for illegally carrying of a firearm.

Even if a person is licensed to carry a firearm, there are certain locations where people are not allowed to enter with a firearm, club, illegal knife, or any prohibited weapon. These include: a high school, collegiate, professional or interscholastic event (but a licensed person can carry unless signage is posted); civil commitment facility; correctional facility; hospital or nursing home (but a licensed person can carry there unless signage is posted); mental hospital; amusement park (but a licensed person can carry there unless signage is posted); meeting room of a governmental entity during a scheduled open meeting unless the person has a license to carry; school or educational institution; polling place during the day of election or early voting; courts and offices used by a court; secured premises of an airport; racetrack; within 1000 feet of a place of execution; and alcohol license premises (but a licensed person can carry there unless signage is posted).

Justin Sparks, owner of the firm, has been defending clients throughout Fort Worth and Dallas, TX, for more than a decade. The Sparks Law Firm is committed to helping clients go through the criminal process, from investigation to appeals. They offer free consultations for all new cases. The firm?s practice areas are in: appeals, crimes against justice, crimes involving minors, drug crimes, DUI/DWI, expunctions, federal crimes, firearm crimes, juvenile crimes, theft, violent crimes, white collar crimes, and more.

The quality of the legal services they provide has been proven by the highly positive reviews they have been receiving from clients. They currently have an overall rating of 4.8 out of 5 stars on Google after getting almost 250 reviews. In a recent review, Drew P. gave them a five star rating and said, ?Justin Sparks and everyone at the Sparks Law Firm are the single best attorneys I have ever worked with, hands down. They made everything very cut and dry, and super simple. And they always answered any question or concerns I had within a couple minutes. They have great relationships with the personnel at the courthouse, and will really fight for you to their very best ability. I would recommend Sparks to anyone looking for a very easy process and positive outcome with their case. 10/10 if I ever need a criminal attorney again, Sparks Law Firm will be my first & only call I make. Thank you Mr. Sparks, Mr. Norris, Sarah, and everyone involved.?
