

ICAN California Abilities Network Launches Supported Employment Program in Torrance, CA

May 10, 2023

May 10, 2023 -
Torrance, CA - ICAN California Abilities Network has announced the launch of its Supported Employment Program in Torrance, California. The program is designed to provide job placement and support services to individuals with disabilities, empowering them to achieve their goals of independence, self-sufficiency, and self-empowerment.

ICAN California Abilities Network believes that everyone with a disability has the right to access meaningful employment opportunities and be fully included in their communities. By launching this program in Torrance, the organization aims to make a significant impact towards achieving this mission.

The Supported Employment Program offers a range of services, including:

Job Prep Class:

Understanding what employment looks like and understanding workplace expectations
How to apply for a job, prepare for an interview, and more
Four sessions over four weeks

Job Development:

Initial interview to learn more about you: work history, interests, transportation, and more
Weekly development meetings
Collaboration in searching and applying for jobs

Interview Prep:

One-to-one interview preparation and coaching

Paid Internship:

A 3-6 month internship with a community business that includes one-to-one job coaching support with the goal of employment at the end. Through this process, clients learn job tasks and work on employment goals.

Employment Support:

One-to-one support through job coaching
Job support geared towards full independence in the first 6-12 months

ICAN California Abilities Network is focused on finding the right job for each client. This job might be the first step in career development.
