Also close by is San Antonio where visitors can visit the historical site, The Alamo, which was the location of a 13-day siege during the Texas Revolution. Also in San Antonio is the River Walk, which is regarded as the top attraction in Texas. Dr. Hickman offers two all-inclusive options for affordable vasectomy reversal in New Braunfels. One option is available at $3,300, where an oral sedative and local anesthesia are used. The second option is available at $4,200, where the patient will be under IV sedation that is administered by a board-certified anesthesiologist. Both are all-inclusive options, which means there are no hidden fees or any additional costs.

To reverse a vasectomy, Dr. Hickman will perform a microsurgical repair of the vas deferens, which is the tube that allows the mature sperm from the testes to reach the urethra for ejaculation. It is this tube that is cut and sealed during a vasectomy to prevent conception. Dr. Hickman will look for the two ends of the vas and then free them from the surrounding scar tissue. He will then join the two ends and ensure a watertight enclosure through the use of fine nylon suture and a powerful operating microscope.

Before joining the two ends of the vas deferens, Dr. Hickman will first take a sample fluid from the testicular end and look at this under the microscope to see if it contains sperm. If it does not, this means there is an epididymal blowout and Dr. Hickman will need to do a vasoepididymostomy in addition to the vasovasostomy but there will be no additional charge.

Dr. Mark Hickman finished his general surgery residency training at the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio and this was the time when he received a lot of information on the microsurgery methods employed in cosmetic and reconstructive surgery. He quickly realized how microsurgery can offer a minimally invasive procedure that can improve the experience of his patients and their outcomes. He decided to focus on microsurgery for his practice that offers vasectomy reversal. He has already completed thousands of successful vasectomy reversals during his 26 years of practice, resulting into thousands of births and happy parents.

Those who are interested in reversing vasectomy can visit the Microsurgical Vasectomy Reversals by Dr. Mark Hickman website or contact them through the telephone or by email. They are open from 8:30 am to 5:00 pm, from Monday to Friday.
